

Technical Guide for Psychological Fitness for Duty (PFFD) Referrals to the Colorado State Employee Assistance Program (C-SEAP)

Psychological fitness for duty (PFFD) evaluations are a means for addressing situations in the workplace which are extraordinary in nature and where an employee may pose a direct threat to themselves or others in the workplace. They may also be used to determine an employee's psychological fitness to perform their essential job functions.

Because understanding and managing a PFFD involves a complex set of tasks, dependent on a professional level of knowledge about human behavior, the Colorado State Employee Assistance Program (C-SEAP) is responsible for the overall coordination of the PFFD evaluation process for the State. Additionally, C-SEAP provides consultation to Appointing Authorities (AA/designees), and Human Resource (HR) personnel regarding PFFD.

Depending on the circumstances, refusal by the employee to comply with a request for a PFFD evaluation may be grounds for corrective and/or disciplinary action, up to and including termination. If an employee's performance and/or behavior rise to the level of unacceptable work performance, grossly inefficient work performance, or unacceptable personal conduct, the PFFD process does not preclude management from pursuing appropriate action under the State Personnel Board Rules and Personnel Director's Administrative Procedures.

The following Technical Guide is intended for use in conjunction with the "Psychological Fitness for Duty (PFFD)" Flow Chart. The Flow Chart item is listed in the left column, and the corresponding procedures are detailed in the right column.

The AA/designee identifies an employee with behavioral problems	If an AA/designee has a reasonable belief, based on an employee's conduct, behavior and circumstances, that due to cognitive or psychological factors, which may or may not include substance abuse: (a) the employee's ability to perform the essential functions of his/her position is impaired, or (b) continued service by the employee may be a direct threat to the safety of that employee, other employees, or public safety, the AA/designee will

The AA/designee consults with HR	consult with HR to determine an appropriate course of action. This may include removing the employee from the job pending a PFFD evaluation.
Is a PFFD evaluation warranted?	At the discretion of the AA/designee, after identifying an employee with behavioral problems and prior to considering a PFFD evaluation, the AA/designee meets with the employee regarding the situation and obtains the employee's response and pertinent information.
If the AA/designee and HR determine a PFFD evaluation is warranted or they are unsure, the AA/designee and HR consult with C-SEAP	When PFFD is a consideration, C-SEAP provides consultation to identify the most appropriate and effective means for addressing employee issues related to behavior, psychological or substance abuse issues. PFFD evaluations must be job-related and consistent with business necessity. The AA/designee should be able to identify which specific job duties or functions are affected and/or in what way the employee presents a direct threat to self or others.
If a PFFD evaluation will be completed, the AA/designee meets with the employee and makes the PFFD referral to C-SEAP	In the absence of sufficient information to support a PFFD evaluation, the AA/designee should consider the option of making an Employee Based Referral (EBR) to C-SEAP. EBR referrals to C-SEAP may be used to assess and resolve employee behavior concerns when an AA/designee notes adverse changes in job performance and/or personal conduct. This type of referral may also be used when management has identified an employee issue for which C-SEAP intervention is warranted to minimize disruption in the workplace or to defuse a potential workplace problem. Lastly, it is appropriate to make EBR referrals for employees whose behavior raises concern regarding possible alcohol or substance abuse, or who have tested positive for alcohol or non prescribed controlled substances. Once determined that a PFFD evaluation is necessary, the AA/designee contacts C-SEAP to make the referral. C-SEAP is responsible for case managing the PFFD process with the employee, his/her AA/designee and HR. The case management process involves a multiplicity of coordination activities with all involved parties, including the AA/designee, HR, the employee, the evaluator and other personnel. C-SEAP is responsible for the recruitment and selection of qualified PFFD evaluators from the professional areas of psychiatry, neuro-psychiatry, psychology, neuro-psychology and other mental health disciplines. After making the decision to request a PFFD evaluation, the AA/designee in consultation with HR will determine whether leave is necessary and if so, the appropriate type of leave to place the employee on during the period of time the PFFD evaluation is completed. The AA/designee meets, or otherwise communicates with the employee, reviews the basis for making a PFFD referral to C-SEAP, advises the employee about leave, if appropriate, and provides the employee with the PFFD Referral Letter.
If a PFFD evaluation will not be completed, a EBR referral is made to C-SEAP or other action is taken	If the AA/designee and HR determine that the employee will not be referred for a PFFD evaluation, the AA/designee and HR will consult with C-SEAP about making an EBR referral of the employee to C-SEAP or taking other action.

Does the employee accept the PFFD referral? The employee accepts the PFFD referral The employee does not accept the PFFD referral	The AA/designee provides to C-SEAP any additional information obtained since the initial consultation with C-SEAP regarding the case. If the employee accepts the referral, the employee calls C-SEAP and schedules an appointment. If the employee does not accept the PFFD referral, the AA/designee consults with C-SEAP and proceeds with performance management and/or the corrective/disciplinary process if appropriate.
C-SEAP interviews the employee	C-SEAP meets with the employee in-person or by telephone, depending upon certain circumstances. During this interview, the PFFD process is reviewed, C-SEAP's confidentiality policy and the ROI are explained, and the employee's perspective and information related to his/her situation is obtained as part of collateral information for the evaluator.
C-SEAP coordinates the PFFD referral of the employee to the evaluator	C-SEAP collaborates with the AA/designee to identify and structure the evaluation referral questions which guide the evaluator's process, ensure the evaluation is job-related and consistent with business necessity, and increase the likelihood that report results will be useful and clear. C-SEAP will identify with the AA/designee and HR which collateral information is available and necessary, i.e., documentation pertaining to the basis for the referral, the PDQ, performance, etc. C-SEAP determines the type* of evaluation that is appropriate for the situation and schedules an appointment for the employee with the evaluator accordingly. C-SEAP reviews with the evaluator, the basis for the referral and the referral questions. C-SEAP also sends the PFFD Referral Form, relevant documentation, i.e., performance, behavior, PDQ, etc., to the evaluator prior to the employee's appointment. C-SEAP contacts the employee and provides the name of the evaluator, the appointment time and location. C-SEAP notifies the AA/designee of the appointment time for the employee's evaluation. *Types of evaluation may include psychiatric, neuro-psychiatric, psychological, neuropsychological and/or physical.
The evaluator completes the PFFD evaluation	The evaluator contacts C-SEAP with any questions or concerns in carrying out the evaluation, and in the event the evaluator needs additional information from collateral sources, C-SEAP will respond accordingly. C-SEAP also remains available to the employee to address questions or concerns he/she has regarding the PFFD process.
